Nothappy of Desoto, TX Verified Reviewer Original review: September 6, 2020 I bought a Troy Built 42 riding lawnmowers/garden tractor in 2018. It cuts well, has held up almost 3 seasons so far, and with the exception of having to buy a new battery after season 1 it did what I expected it to do. It is only used for the front yard because I bush the pig most of the rest of the 10 acres that we own. Good: It mows well if the grass is not terribly long. It starts right away. It has very good security features. The price was phenomenal. It's not that great: I realize it's a yard tractor, but if the lawn tires even see a small drop of water it gets stuck. The fuel tank should be twice the size of the current size, so you can complete a decent yard on one tank. The engine probably needs another horse or two. Finally, some security items really need to be reconsidered, ie, why can't you mow in reverse? At first I was a little afraid, but it was not bad at all and easy to handle. Very grateful I decided to purchase. Don from Milwaukee, WI Verified Reviewer Original review: September 1, 2020To do it twice a week on my lawn and then my elderly neighbors. Perfect cut every time, with excellent corner radius. Pros: cranks right up, easy to drop deck while under power, light to gas slow down & responds to heavy gas if needed. Shops with ease and can add battery deals with pigtail connect & play in the winter months. Wheels perfectly sized. He's mowing the grass! Price directly for its use. Cons: No mulcher, deck should be at 4 in the summer months. Never drop the deck to #1. It is not hydraulic and must be in front gear when you drop the deck or it will stand in the opposite direction. It has no hinge or plow connector. Dave from Kennesaw, Georgia Verified Reviewer Original review: August 31, 2020Troy Bilt is a well planned well built lawnmower. This lawn mower is durable and reliable. Every time I get on a lawnmower and mow the grass, it's something you want to look forward to. It's easy Craig and in two years I've never had to do anything but change the oil, put a little air in the tires and let it go! Benjamin of Berea, KY Verified Reviewer review: Aug. 30, 2020I look like my Troy-Bilt because it is built stronger than cheaper models. Specifically, the front components used to rotate the wheels. It is this easily and has a plug that allows faster and easier oil change. There are still some aspects that could improve though. The seat springs are too strong for lighter people and the button used to keep the blade spinning when you go in the opposite direction sometimes shuts down on its own. Robert of Virginia Beach, VA Verified Reviewer Verified Buyer Original review: October 28, 2020I Owned by Troy-Bilt Bronco (2005) model. I've been using it for 15 years. It's been working very well all these years. Now, it was time for more, so I bought a 2019 Troy-Bilt Bronco. After a year, I need to do some vital work. Trying to secure an authorized service center is a royal pain in the ass. Apparently, no one knows how to fix these things. The result will be my last Troy-Bilt anything. So check the location of the service center before you buy a Troy-Bilt Machine of any kind. Jessica from Charter Oak, IA Verified Reviewer Original review: September 8, 2020I can use this Troy-Bilt riding boarding school in just over a year. Spring before the mowing season. I took the car to maintain it, the oil changed, the blades sharpened etc in July the engine started smoking. I took him to the store that had him up for maintenance in the spring. Troy-Bilt refuses to keep their guarantee. I will recommend this company. Russell of Moneat, VA Verified Reviewer Original review: September 5, 2020Is an OK cutter for the price of... Cheaply made but quite durable... Optional items such as baggers are overpriced at no reduced price when buying with a meatr. As already mentioned, the price makes them popular with homeowners who do not want to make a big investment in lawn care. Jackie of Hobbs, NM Verified Reviewer Original review: September 3, 2020I can use my zero radius to mow my seat and I hold 2 plots next to me mowed just for curb appeal. They're empty. It would be two days of work without my mower. I can do it and be done in half a day. I wouldn't take it as my machine. William of Seekonk, MA Verified Reviewer Original review: September 2, 2020Model, which I review, is Pony. My basic needs are met with a sewer. It has a fairly comfortable seating area and the controls are easily within easy reach. Not as quiet as the other mowers. Next Photo: Troy-Bilt FLEX SystemNext Spring, a one yard care system is about to revolutionize the way homeowners stock their shelters. We're used to things like a lawnmower, leaf blower, snow blower and pressure washer unitsWhen FLEX hits stores in March, the power base is expected to retail for $399, with a four-year limited warranty. Attachments will range from $279 to $499, each of which is covered for two years. It may seem like a long time to wait, but we waited so long for the car to fit in the garage again that we can probably put it off a little longer.
